Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-12, drawn to a hazard atlas of a disorder in a tissue comprising an image of the tissue. If this group is elected then the below summarized specie election is also required.

Group II, claim(s) 13-19, drawn to a system for determining a hazard score.

Group III, claim(s) 20-24 and 28, drawn to a computer program and a method for determining a patient's hazard score.

Group IV, claim(s) 25, drawn to a method for determining the efficacy of a treatment method for a patient having a tissue disorder.

Group V, claim(s) 26, drawn to a method of generating an expert hazard atlas.

Group VI, claim(s) 27, drawn to a method of generating a data-driven hazard atlas.

The inventions listed as Groups I-VI do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Each of the groups I-VI are linked by the special technical feature of assessing tissue damage, i.e. a hazard atlas or hazard score, through image analysis. Young (US P/N 5,200,345) at the abstract and col. 1, lines 27-61 teaches assessing tissue damage through image analysis. Thus the special technical feature linking each of the listed groups is taught in the prior art. Therefore, the groups are not linked as to form a general inventive concept.

Group I Specie Election

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of what a code comprises:

- A) color as in claim 6.
- B) a series of numbers as in claim 7.
- C) is a gray scale as in claim 8.

The species are independent or distinct because claims to the different species recite the mutually exclusive characteristics of such species. In addition, these species are not obvious variants of each other based on the current record.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable.

Currently, claim 1 is generic.

There is an examination and search burden for these patentably distinct species due to their mutually exclusive characteristics. The species require a different field of search (e.g., searching different classes/subclasses or electronic resources, or employing different search queries); and/or the prior art applicable to one species would not likely be applicable to another species; and/or the species are likely to raise different non-prior art issues under 35 U.S.C. 101 and/or 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

The election of the species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the election of species requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected species.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the species unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other species.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141.
